

WISHFIELD

Auto-Renewal Subscription Terms

Last updated: 7 September 2026

These terms describe paid subscriptions, individual article purchases and the Ask an Expert service in the WishField mobile application. They supplement the WishField User Agreement and Privacy Notice. If a storefront checkout screen displays different mandatory billing information, that storefront disclosure controls for that purchase.

1. Scope and Acceptance

These Auto-Renewal Subscription Terms (the "Subscription Terms") apply to purchases made in the WishField mobile application (the "App") from WishField LLC ("WishField", "we", "us" or "our"). By selecting a paid plan, confirming a purchase through Apple App Store or Google Play, or using a paid feature, you accept these Subscription Terms and the WishField User Agreement.

Purchases are offered only through Apple App Store or Google Play, as applicable to your device and account. Apple or Google, as applicable, processes billing, manages the subscription record and handles refund requests under its own terms and policies. We do not receive or store your full payment-card details.

2. Paid Products and Current USD Prices

All amounts below are stated in U.S. dollars. The price, currency, applicable taxes and product details presented by Apple App Store or Google Play at checkout are the final price and terms for your purchase. Localized store prices may differ because of exchange rates, taxes, pricing tiers or storefront rules.

Individual articles

The App offers or will offer individual articles for purchase. Each article is a separate one-time purchase. Depending on the article, the current listed price is USD 1.49, 1.99, 2.49, 2.99, 3.49, 3.99, 4.49, or 4.99. The exact price and access scope are shown on the article purchase screen before you confirm payment.

Ask an Expert

The paid "Ask an Expert" service is available for USD 29.99 per question or request. An active Pro or Ultra subscription gives a 50% discount, so the current price is USD 14.99 per question or request. The discount applies only while the eligible subscription is active and is confirmed at checkout. The service is a one-time purchase and does not renew automatically unless the store expressly displays a separate recurring product.

Pro and Ultra subscriptions

Plan	Billing period	Base price	Introductory price
Pro	1 month	USD 29.99	USD 19.99
Pro	3 months	USD 69.99	USD 59.99
Pro	1 year	USD 199.99	USD 179.99
Ultra	1 week	USD 14.99	No introductory price
Ultra	1 month	USD 49.99	USD 34.99
Ultra	3 months	USD 109.99	USD 94.99
Ultra	1 year	USD 299.99	USD 269.99

An introductory price, where shown and available, applies only to the initial subscription period unless the checkout screen expressly says otherwise. After that period, the subscription automatically renews at the stated base price for the same billing period, unless you cancel before renewal or the storefront communicates a different price in accordance with its rules and applicable law. No free trial is included unless one is explicitly shown at checkout.

3. Subscription Benefits and Advertising

The benefits, included content and feature availability for Pro and Ultra are shown in the App and at the applicable store checkout. Benefits may differ by platform, country, product version or availability. A subscription does not automatically include every separately priced article or paid service unless the App expressly states that it does.

The App may display advertising. The presence, reduction or removal of advertising is governed by the plan description displayed at checkout; advertising is not removed merely because a user makes an individual article purchase. Advertising may be supplied by third parties and is subject to the Privacy Notice and applicable law.

4. Automatic Renewal and Billing

Pro and Ultra are auto-renewable subscriptions. When you purchase a subscription, you authorize Apple or Google to charge your account at the displayed price for the selected billing period and, unless you cancel, to charge the applicable renewal price at the start of each successive billing period. The subscription period is one week, one month, three months or one year, as selected at checkout.

The store will manage the timing of authorization, billing, renewal, failed payments, any billing grace period, and notices. We do not guarantee uninterrupted access if a payment fails, the store rejects a charge, your account is unavailable, or the product is no longer offered. Access normally continues through the end of a paid period after a valid cancellation, subject to the store's rules.

We will clearly disclose the subscription name, duration, price and any promotional price before you are charged. If a future price change requires notice, consent or other consumer protection steps, we and/or the relevant store will follow the applicable requirements. A price change does not affect a purchase already completed except as stated by the store or required by law.

5. How to Cancel

Cancellation must be completed through the same storefront used to purchase the subscription. Deleting the App does not cancel a subscription.

Apple App Store purchases

On an Apple device, go to Settings > Apple Account > Subscriptions > WishField > Cancel Subscription. You may also use your App Store account. Cancel before Apple's shown renewal date to prevent the next charge.

Google Play purchases

In Google Play, go to Profile > Payments & subscriptions > Subscriptions > WishField > Cancel subscription. You may also use play.google.com. Cancel before Google's shown renewal date to prevent the next charge.

After cancellation, access generally continues to the end of the already-paid billing period, unless a refund, store action, legal requirement or product restriction changes that result.

6. Refunds

Submit a refund request for any subscription, article or Ask an Expert purchase through the Apple App Store or Google Play system used for that purchase. The relevant storefront determines eligibility, timing and payment under its policies and mandatory law; WishField cannot directly credit the original payment method.

Use Apple Support or its purchase-history/refund flow for Apple purchases, and the Google Play refund request flow for Google Play purchases. If the store directs you to us, email wishfield22@gmail.com with the purchase date, product, storefront and non-sensitive order reference.

Nothing in these Subscription Terms limits a refund, withdrawal, conformity or other remedy that you are entitled to under mandatory law. For consumers in the EEA/UK, rights relating to digital content and digital services may apply; where immediate supply lawfully requires your express consent and acknowledgement regarding withdrawal rights, the required consent will be requested at checkout.

7. Changes, Downgrades and Availability

Apple and Google control upgrades, downgrades, billing credits and effective dates within their systems. A change is subject to storefront rules and checkout disclosure; it may remove plan benefits, including the discounted Ask an Expert price, from its effective date.

We may prospectively change plans, articles, features, prices, offers or availability. One-time articles remain subject to the access and license shown at purchase, and subscription benefits apply only during an active paid term. Mandatory consumer rights remain unaffected.

8. Contact and Order of Priority

For paid-feature questions, contact WishField at wishfield22@gmail.com. Use Apple App Store or Google Play support first for billing, cancellation and refunds. These Terms control paid-product and renewal matters if they conflict with the User Agreement, except where a storefront rule or mandatory law gives you greater protection.